Dear Friends,

“Summer” doesn’t officially begin for another week (June 21), but I would guess that most of us think of “summer” as the season between Memorial Day and Labor Day – and that season has definitely arrived. First Presbyterian Church has historically had a tradition of more or less “taking the summer off.” However, we are now trying to sustain our faithfulness throughout the summer season in several ways:

- ✠ We are adding a worship service at 8:30 a.m. in the Chapel. This past Sunday, we had to bring in more chairs! You are very welcome to attend this more meditative, informal service that will last no more than 45 minutes.
- ✠ Our Christian Education Committee is planning not only a great Vacation Bible School this week, but some “intergenerational” Sunday School experiences from 9:30-10 a.m. on several summer Sundays. The first will take place on June 27. Come and enjoy a fun time of learning with church family members of all ages!
- ✠ The Congregational Care Committee has scheduled a potluck breakfast for August 1. More details will be forthcoming. And, of course, they’re planning our annual Cleveland Indians outing for September.
- ✠ The Mission Interpretation and Stewardship Committee invites you to volunteer time and labor for the Habitat for Humanity Apostles’ Build. We have already surpassed our financial goal.

Enjoy! If you are not going to get much of a break from your routine this summer, try to steal a few minutes or hours of relaxation and re-creation. And if you are on the road, may traveling mercies be yours.

Blessings,
Meta
